Zeno's Furniture sells exactly five types of furniture:
Footstools, Hutches, Sideboards, Tables, and Vanities.

Each can be made of exactly one kind of wood:
Maple, Oak, Pine, or Rosewood

Irene buys four items, each of a different type.
The following conditions govern Irene's purchases:

- Any vanity she buys is Maple.
- Any rosewood item she buys is a sideboard.
- If she buys a vanity, she does not buy a footstool.
- If she buys a footstool, she also buys a table made of the same material.
- Irene does not buy an oak table.
- Exactly two of the items she buys are made of the same kind of wood.

Problem 1:

Which one of the following could be an accurate list of the items Irene buys?

- maple footstool, maple hutch, rosewood sideboard, maple table
- oak hutch, rosewood sideboard, pine table, oak vanity
- rosewood hutch, maple sideboard, oak table, maple vanity
- pine footstool, rosewood sideboard, pine table, maple vanity
- maple footstool, pine hutch, oak sideboard, maple table \Leftarrow this one
